THE MAD GREEK

— a family tradition

From the time I was young, I dreamed of following in my father's footsteps and owning a restaurant. My dad, Costa (Gus), along with my uncles, opened their first restaurant here in Moose Jaw in 1963. Almost 50 years later, their legacy continues, and much of what I've learned comes from them—especially my father.

When I opened The Mad Greek in October 2002, I wanted to bring more of the flavors I grew up with into my "dream" restaurant. Some of those tastes came from family trips to Greece, but many came right from my mother Afroditi's (Freda's) kitchen.

Over the years, we've become known for our ribs, pizza, and of course, our famous Greek sauce—so popular it's traveled everywhere from California to Alberta. Today, The Mad Greek has become a fixture in Moose Jaw, and for that, I have our customers to thank.
